Foreword

"KNOWLEDGE MAY BE GAINED FROM BOOKS, BUT THE LOVE OF KNOWLEDGE IS TRANSMITTED ONLY BY PERSONAL CONTACT."

— Henry VanDyke

To gain something we have to give something. From your teachers and fellow students who have given to you, you have gained.

Be proud of your knowledge; be generous with your knowledge; be creative of new knowledge; inspire and stimulate others by your love of knowledge. No greater gift can you give to others than this love of knowledge. It means security for America; it means your success as a person; it means your future happiness; it means the preservation of our civilization. May you contribute more than you receive.

Lewis Markham

Dedication

For supporting our activities. . . .

For helping us through these four years. . . .

For taking an active interest in our teams. . . .

For just "being there". . . .

We, the class of 1959, hereby dedicate our Hiltorial to you — the UNDER CLASSMEN of Hilton Central School.

In Memorium

A TRIBUTE TO HAZEL JENKINS

We the class of '59 bow our heads in silent prayer
In memory of Hazel Jenkins, ever so patient and so fair.
Always a word of comfort — always a helping hand,
Always a smile — or a pat on the back — to show she'd understand
Sometimes our problems were funny — sometimes they weren't so nice,
But she always listened carefully — then she gave us her advice.
She started us on our journey — guiding our path through school,
Taught us the code of living — to follow the Golden Rule.
God grant we will follow her teachings — in all that we think, say, or do.

IN MEMORY OF LOREN ODELL

Tread lightly, he is near
Under the snow,
Speak gently, he can hear
The daisies grow.
All his bright golden hair
Tarnished with rust,
He that was young and fair
Fallen to dust.
Lily-like, white as snow.
He hardly knew
He was a man, so sweetly he grew.

Requiescat — Oscar Wilde

A faithful friend is better than gold.

Administration & Staff

Board of Education

Absent: Baxter.

Very few people ever realize the time and effort spent by the Board of Education in deciding upon school problems and policies. In most cases being a member of the Board is a little appreciated task — with small rewards and many criticisms.

As the class of '59 looks back upon its school memories, we want to pause to show our appreciation to the Board of Education for always being there with that helping hand whenever it was needed.

I came here to America through American Field Service, a voluntary organization of Americans founded after the last war. It offers scholarships for one year's stay in the U.S. to boys and girls all over the world, in order to bring more understanding among all people.

I live in Sweden on the outskirts of the capitol, Stockholm. My family consists of my father Nils, my mother Kate and my sixteen year-old brother Kjell.

My hobbies are art, music, literature, photography.

I go to Nya Elementarskolan where I have two years left when I go back to Sweden. Schools in Sweden are much different from the ones here. It is not only school that is new for me. There are so many other things, and I really enjoy learning about them.

I am so glad to be here, and I want to thank you all for helping me to get to know your wonderful country.

Our first attempt at becoming thespians was enacting "Wilbur Minds the Baby" for our Sophomore Play. Thanks to the help of our able director, Mr. Joseph Lester, our attempt was more than a success — we were chosen to take the play to a drama festival to compete with other high school plays and we were highly commended for our efforts.

The plot revolved around a young teen-age boy named Wilbur, who is assigned to take care of a "baby" older than the sitter. In fact, the baby takes care of Wilbur for awhile, instead of the other way around. All ends happily however, with everyone getting his just desserts, including Wilbur who takes not one, but two girls to the movies. The curtain rang down with a very happy cast and enthusiastic audience as our first attempt at the "Theatah" came to a close.

Sophomore - Junior Plays

Our second try was more on the serious side — we tried a very spooky mystery, which was directed by Mrs. Virginia Frank. Our mystery, entitled "Ghost on the Loose," was complete with fainting people, rattling chains, a thunder and lightning storm, and of course a ghost or two.

This all starts when a female biology teacher takes her class on a field trip. The field trip comes to a sudden halt when a bad storm forces them to take refuge in a very old and supposedly-haunted hacienda. From then on spookiness prevails, with strange things and people appearing and disappearing at random. However, all ends happily, when the ghost, who turns out to be the owner of the old house, and the pretty teacher have eyes only for each other.

Senior Play

Seated: Mac Kinder, Welch, Mc Carroll, Coe, Marx, Owen. Standing: Scheib, Mikel, Collamer, Chase, Hamlin, Rowley, Smith, Brodie.

Our last effort in the field of dramatics was a three-act comedy entitled "Doctor's Orders." Directed by Miss Durrant with Sandra Smith acting as student director, the play centered around Miss Letty Madden and her inhibitions. On the advice of her doctor she attempts to answer her impulses and does so by shoplifting, roller-skating in the cellar, keeping company with a suspected thief and taking on a decided love for perfume. All this worries her sister Agatha, her brother Adolph and his daughter Julia immensely and they call upon a detective for aid in their "hour of need." Naturally, all ends well and happily. Adolph is found to be the actual crook, Letty gets her man, as does her new-found friend Miss Norris. Agatha's three hat-making friends are relieved and the dizzy maid receives a chance to answer her calling — that of trying ballet dancing.

Tryouts, rehearsals and actual performances are over and our thespian careers are ended. However, none of us hold any qualms for it had contributed in making our Senior year all the more enjoyable.

Burritt, Marx, Armstrong, Hyland, Schieb, Day, Ophardt, Heise, McCarroll, Schepler, Welch, Merritt, Dieckman, Gosnell.

The King and Queen of our first formal dance carried out their duties with regal ease and dignity. Mary Ophardt and Jay Heise were crowned in a Japanese pagoda amidst an Oriental atmosphere.

The gym was decorated to fit our theme, "Sayonara." Under a colorful lantern Jack Nunn's Orchestra played a variety of music for dancing. Punch was served from a second pagoda while the focal point was a lovely cherry tree and a bridge spanning an irregular-shaped pond.

The decorations, refreshments and dancing all contributed to a time which will be remembered by all.

The King and Queen — Jay and Mary

Senior Ball

Our last class event involved the Senior Ball. Presented on December 26, the evening after Christmas, we decorated the gymnasium in Egyptian decore and used merely The Annual Senior Ball as our theme. The walls were done in murals and the band was surrounded by a mammoth sphinx. In the center were two very authentic looking palm trees.

We chose Gene Zacher for our band and once again chairmanship of the semi-formal affair was put in the hands of capable Gerry Merritt.

The evening was a happy ending to an enjoyable 1958.

Class Will

As we, the class of '59, walk through Hilton Central for the last time, we look around us. "What can we leave our school and the people in it which could possibly improve it?" We then think of our own most prized possessions. After much deliberation, we then distribute these very things that have given us happiness during our high school career. May they bring you this same success also.

To the Juniors we leave our spirit of togetherness. May you use this gift wisely to its best advantage.

To the Sophomores we leave our industrious nature. Complete jobs begun and never shirk your duty. Your remaining high school years will be all the more rewarding.

To the Freshmen we leave our love of fun. Realize when to use this gift, and it will bring you much enjoyment.

To the Faculty and Administration we give our heartfelt thanks for aiding us in acquiring the knowledge that will light our future paths.

To the Staff we extend appreciation for numerous favors rendered. But what is most important, we leave as a single unit, dedicated to improving ourselves and the world around us.

May you recall our class each time occasion requires the use of these gifts.

Class History

Ours is a history born of the initiative, spirit of togetherness, love of fun and industriousness of the members of our class.

Even in kindergarten we showed signs of promise we are told. By January we could all tie our own shoes! On top of this Brad Chase and Jim Albano, were quite proficient with the hammer and saw.

Elementary school brought out more of our skills with Sally Mikel and Steve Burritt taking lead parts in all operettas presented. Even at that tender age the "ham" in us was beginning to show!

By Junior High School our class had grown to sixty members with each contributing his share. Will we ever forget science classes, hot pepper in gum served by a certain English teacher, activity periods or those momentous Class Day trips?

But it was in our Freshman year that we began to shine. We found ourselves decked in paint from head to toe after zealous efforts to decorate the school at Christmas time. And then came our first dance! With the assistance given by our advisors Mrs. Crosby and Mr. Strong we somehow managed to complete the decorating of the gym to the theme of "Sugar and Spice" approximately an hour before the dance. Our officers that year included Bob Forbes, Gail Armstrong, Kathy Welch and Norm Coe. This was the year the girls of the class discovered upperclassmen — a discovery some of them have been pursuing ever since!

Our Sophomore year opened more new horizons. Officers that year were Valerie Marx, Mary Ophardt, Steve Burritt, and Mr. Steidle acted as advisor. Our first project was a round and square dance entitled "Canadian Sunset." In the spring, we presented our first play, a one-act comedy directed by Mr. Lester entitled "Wilbur Minds the Baby." We were successful with this play and were invited to a drama festival at Brockport State where we again donned our costumes and make-up for the public. This was the year we introduced the practice of selecting class rings in our Sophomore year and receiving them in the start of our Junior year. Because of rowdiness at a class meeting (since abolished) we were not permitted to hold a class picnic. Quite a disastrous end to an otherwise enjoyable year.

Our Junior year! What a memorable one that was! Under the able advisorship of Mr. Burnett, Mr. Hilton and Mrs. Frank, officers were elected. Dick Schepler led the slate with Gerry Merritt, Nancy Taylor and Deb Dieckman composing the remainder of the "leaders." We received our rings in October and we were officially Juniors. We then found what real working order actually was. We not only had courses such as Chemistry and Intermediate Algebra to consume our time but many class activities as well. Flag bearers had to be chosen and Carol Meyer, Judy Anderson, Jay Heise, Bruce Knight and Jim Albano capably filled these positions. Next came our play.

Mrs. Frank succeeded in separating the men from the boys and a cast of characters (literally) was picked from the class of amateur thespians.

This play turned the lives of several of the cast members topsy-turvy without their even realizing it. Need we say more? Plans for our Prom soon followed. Gerry Merritt took over the chairmanship, and the theme of "Sayonara" was picked. Debby Dieckman and Judy Anderson, decoration chairmen, are sure not to soon forget the hours of work they spent on the dragon, and pagodas. And will Mr. Hilton and Mr. Burnett forget Norm's ming tree? King and queen candidates included Dick Schepler, Jay Heise, Gerry Merritt, Tom Scheib, and Steve Burritt, Gail Armstrong, Debby Dieckman, Mary Ophardt, Valerie Marx and Kathy Welch. Mary and Jay were ultimately elected to reign over this, the most exciting and enchanting of all dances. On Class Day we entertained the Seniors at the traditional Senior breakfast. Highlights of the program included a pantomime, "a sad song by the leather clad" Church Choir Three" and a jam session with sultry blonde et al. It was here we said good-bye to the Class of '58. We had been close to them throughout their high school career and it was with much sadness and regret that we watched them leave. The year closed with a class picnic at Hamlin Beach. We lived up to our reputation and had a thoroughly enjoyable day of fun and frolic.

We had then reached the peak of our expectations — Senior year. Dick Schepler took over the president's gavel once again, with Norm Coe, Gail Armstrong and Ruth MacKinder completing his staff. The administration must have considered us an unruly mob, for we were assigned four advisors! Mr. Wright was to handle our magazine sale, Miss Durrant our play, Mrs. Crosby the yearbook and Mr. Hicks the Senior Ball. We set about almost immediately with our trusty pencils and magazine lists and were successful enough to top our goal. Yearbook sales followed with equal success.

Our play was a three-act comedy entitled "Doctor's Orders" and was well received by the paying public. We were fortunate to have Swedish born Elizabet Lanberg join us in this our last year, and we thoroughly enjoyed the freshness of this new personality and the artistic additions she brought us. By this time plans for the Senior Ball were under way. Gerry again acted as general chairman, a job which he seems cut out to do, and Sally Mikel was chosen as decoration chairman. Decorations were based on a night club line with Egyptian decor draped about the gym. The New York trip came during Easter vacation and we doubt if the big city will soon forget the Class of '59. Graduation came all too quickly and we were sad to leave the halls of Hilton. Our years of carefree bliss are ended, and we find ourselves caught out in the "cold, cruel, world." We feel we are prepared to enter this world, however, and we will attempt to give H.C.S. the honor it deserves.

But now we must bid you sad adieu. You may be sure that it is with much regret that we leave you.

What you are to be, you are now becoming.

Juniors

This year's Junior Class was indeed an industrious one.

Many of its members were on the sports' teams and four of the girls cheered on the Varsity squad.

The first undertaking of the class as a whole was the selling of refreshments at basketball games. On sale also this year were Hilton buttons and banners.

In March this class presented its first three-act play — the first ever done by Juniors at Hilton Central, we might add.

The long awaited Junior Prom was presented on May first with the crowning of a king and queen highlighting the evening in the beautifully decorated gymnasium.

On Class Day the Juniors found themselves playing host to their old pals, the Seniors at the traditional Senior breakfast.

With an enjoyable Junior year behind them this class feels they are now prepared for whatever trials their final year at H.C.S. may bring. Happy Senior year, guys and gals!

Sophomores

The Sophomore class has put in a full year with activities and school work taking up much of their time.

No sooner had school begun last fall when time for the Sophomore Hop rolled around. They chose to have a record hop with Nick Nickson playing host and a theme of "Sleepy Hollow Hop." This was a fine choice which resulted in an evening of fun long to be remembered by all attending.

The soccer, basketball, tennis and baseball teams found much of their power stemming from the men in this class while the junior varsity cheering squad included three girls from this class.

Next came the Sophomore play, a one-act comedy directed by Mr. Lester.

This class has enjoyed its first two years in high school and are looking forward to the two remaining years with heartfelt anticipation.

Freshmen

The Freshman class had many experiences and much excitement during their first year in high school.

The first activity undertaken was the decorating of the school for the Christmas holidays. With the helpful assistance of Mrs. Crosby we succeeded in adding decorative splendor to H.C.S.

On March thirteenth, under the direction of Miss Crawford, we presented a one-act play — the first ever done by a Freshman class at Hilton.

A third activity undertaken was a dance presented on Class Day evening truly enjoyed by everyone present.

Because of the co-operation of the whole class, this year has been enjoyable and we now look forward to three more prosperous and exciting years at Hilton Central.

The Student Council's year consisted of a well-rounded schedule advised by D. C. Burnett. The council started off its year with "Record Pictures," a bookstore and Radio Club were new achievements of the Council. "Jam" sessions, records and dancing during lunch period solved the problem of "noisy halls" and proved to be very entertaining. The Council sent four delegates to the National Safety programs and sponsored a nation wide clothing drive. The Council also produced several assemblies while introducing all of them. It also had the Sponsorship of the Exchange Student program and finally the Awards Banquet — a successful ending to an active year.

National Honor Society

Last spring Hilton Central High School held its first 'tapping' ceremony to welcome the charter members of Hilton's newly-organized chapter of the National Honor Society.

The solemn ceremony impressed its audience as each new member was 'tapped' and walked to his place on the stage. When the fifteen selected students were all seated upon the stage, it was explained to them and the audience what an honor it was to become a member of the National Honor Society. The qualities for membership were discussed — leadership, scholarship, character, and service. The assembly closed with the feeling that perhaps a new trend had been initiated at H. C. S. to place more emphasis on students' scholastic ability.

This winter the new members were 'tapped' to fill the place of those who were graduated. The results of this ceremony were anxiously anticipated by all students.

Guided by the Society's advisor, Mr. Joseph Pasquarella, Hilton's chapter of the National Honor Society is paving the way to gain more attention for those students who excel in leadership and scholarship.

The Press Club, this year consists of members from every class, club, or school activity. Special reporters to report school news have been assigned to the staff from each group, while the regular members work in the Feature Department.

The advisor this year is Mrs. Butler, she has had experience in the field of journalism and has contributed much toward the building of the club.

The purpose of the Press Club is to put forth the monthly edition of the "Crimson Crier," your school newspaper.

The Hilton "Sodbusters," our chapter of the Future Farmers of America, is an active organization. Among its many activities can be listed participating in a crop demonstration program, a leadership training school, and a horticultural school.

The F.F.A. also puts on a father and son banquet, plays basketball with area chapters and sponsors a round and square dance

This activity promotes better understanding of proper farming techniques and aids the boys involved in developing leadership qualities.

The Future Nurses' Club is newly organized in H. C. S. this year. A great deal of interest was shown by girls who plan to enter the nursing profession, and several of the members helped the doctors in the health clinic by washing and sterilizing bottles and needles and also by acting as messengers.

Uniforms were made by each of the girls and they attended the Nurses' Aid Course at Rochester General Hospital.

This organization under the supervision of Miss Mengel, the advisor, saw a very eventful year in which they learned much about their chosen profession.

Mrs. Butler

The Latin Club met in October, 1958, and chose the following officers for a term of one year: Lynn McCann and Virginia Jacobs, Consuls; Rhea Conlin, Quaestor; Mary Nell Kellman, Scriba.

The agenda for each meeting follows a regular pattern; reports from the Quaestor and Scriba; some form of entertainment — a skit, a play, a review of some classical myth or an explanation of some Roman custom; songs; refreshments.

On December 18, a time set as close to the date of the original Roman Feast as possible, the members held a Saturnalia Banquet. Garbed in tunics and togas, the "Modern Romans" enjoyed a meal "from eggs to apples."

Those students, who completed one half year of Latin in January, were initiated into the Classical Organization in February. Since this was the Club's first initiation, the ceremony was an important event.

The Hilton Latin Club joined the National Association of Latin Clubs this year and now the members enjoy the title of J. C. L., Junior Classical League.

French Club

Seated: Clapper, Rogers, Cunningham, Miss Crawford, Mc Mann, Barringer, Harris, Donovan.
Standing: Schmitt, Lonberg, Damschroder, Wombwell, Merry, Balogh, Mizma, Hadley.

The French Club, composed of students who have taken or are presently taking French, have undertaken several activities this past year. The members assembled a display on the various aspects of French life which were placed throughout the building so that not only French students, but also other students and faculty members from other departments would have an opportunity to become better acquainted with a foreign culture.

The members presented a French play and a dialogue movie program centered around the lives of the artists and writers of France was also presented.

The year's activities were climaxed by the now traditional banquet at the Normandy Inn in the spring.

Safety Patrol

Seated: Staats, Freitag, Hunn, Doles, Quartaret, Johnson, Marafioti, Duel. Second Row: Durrant, Oakden, Lower, Ingham, Marvin, Sine, Greenwell, Furness. Third Row: L. Mr. Smith

The Safety Patrol under the supervision of Mr. Smith patrolled the primary school in the morning and afternoon. George Doles as Captain and Joe Davey as Lieutenant guided the large membership in this community service.

Those members who served for at least twenty-five hours received a special award.

The students as well as the parents are grateful for their devotion.

Library Club

Under the able assistance of Miss Seaman, thirty-five members of the Library Club learned of the workings of a library. Each member gave at least one period of time helping Miss Seaman by filing, shelving, alphabetizing and many of the other numerous duties of a librarian.

The members planned and participated in several activities. The Book Fair was the largest project undertaken and they also held a faculty tea and presented an assembly on books.

The members learned an efficient way of running a library while helping the librarian with her many duties.

Stoner, Faulkrod, M. Stoner, Way, Kissel, Marx, Armstrong, Smith, Hamlin, Gable, Palmer, Murray, Hoyt, Taylor, Rowley, Hendershot, Welch.

This year started rather slowly for the choruses with practices scheduled during after school hours. Sports, clubs, and other activities consumed the time of many people wishing to participate in chorus. After some shuffling, rehearsals were reslated for noontime and the "do, re, mi's" were again loud and clear.

Soon preparations for the All-State Music Festival had to be readied. This is an annual event and this year Hilton Central played host to the cream of high school musicians from our area. We were fortunate to obtain fine directors for the chorus, band, and orchestra. This extravaganza was quite an undertaking for our music department but with the aid of the entire village and the H.C.S. staff things went perfectly with the resulting performance a decided success.

With this behind them, the chorus could settle back to normality once again. Mixed chorus composed of guys and gals from the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior classes met three times weekly with the Boys'

Chorus meeting on Friday's and the Girls' on Wednesdays. Freshman girls were permitted to join Girls' Chorus this year also.

Because of the slow start and short practice sessions, it was impossible for the choruses to present as great a Christmas program as in previous years but some help was given to them by Elizabet Lonberg, our Swedish exchange student, in singing songs from her country in an assembly preceding Christmas.

Diane Damschroder, Bonnie Beardsley, Sharon Rowley and Karen Schmitt kept up their fine quartette with assistance given by Miss Ball in helping them with different numbers.

In the Spring the chorus and band combined to present the annual evening of musical interpretation.

Miss Geraldine Ball directed the choral groups this year and the students in them indeed benefited from her knowledge of the musical arts.

Life is a picture . . . paint it well.

The Junior High Student Council was newly organized this year. Formerly the Junior High was combined with the Senior High, but since there was to be a Junior High wing this year, the council was separated. They performed many of the same duties given to the Senior High Student Council such as officiating at Junior High assemblies, and taking care of the needs of the students they represent.

These future leaders of the school worked on a Constitution to be used as a guide for their council.

Under the able leadership of Mr. Lester, the members of the Junior Student Council gained poise and assurance during this past year.

After several years of inactivity the Junior High Band was reorganized. The main purpose of this group of young musicians is to prepare them for Senior High Band. They become more proficient in reading notes and playing under a conductor.

Members consist of students in fifth and sixth grades. The members from Junior High also use their skills in the Senior High Band.

Rehearsals under the direction of Mr. Guenther showed the ability of the younger members of our school.

Everyone excels in something in which another fails.

Athletic Council

Seated: Wyant, Catalino, Furness, Wright, DeRitter. Standing: Eckler, Heise, Welch, Tolhurst, Absent: Hawkins, Schmitt, Markham, Klch.

The Athletic Association Council, now in its third year, is a group that does more for the school than is often known. Consisting of representatives of the administration, faculty, student body, and physical education department, the group has as its aim the mental and physical improvement of the participants and spectators of all school sports events.

The objectives and purposes of this organization include the promotion of inter-scholastic sports and good sportsmanship, the raising and apportioning of funds, and the securing of adequate protection for participants of all sports.

The Council also has charge of eligibility rules for students interested in school sports and the organization of pep assemblies throughout the year.

The Athletic Association Council hopes that each year its efforts will bring about better sportsmanship and greater student participation in the many and varied events of our physical education program.

Tennis

Coach De Ritter

The H.C.S. tennis team of 1958 did much the same as last year's by winning three matches — two over East Rochester and one over Fairport.

Bradley Chase, Larry Palmer, Alan Beardsley and John Vanderhoff all qualified for a letter by winning at least one individual match.

With only the loss of Alan Beardsley, Hilton will return with hopes of competing in county competition this year.

Baseball

Coach Tolhurst

In 1958 Hilton fielded what appeared to be a strong team. They won their first game, but then won only two more due to their inability to hit.

The loss of Ken Asmuth, Tom Board, Bill Boothby, Bill Simpson, Gerry Barker and John Crowley will be felt, but nine players are returning and there are some good prospects coming up from JV's. This plus the desire to prove they aren't as bad as it appeared when a no-hitter was pitched against them in their last game, gives Hilton hopes of a much more successful 1959.

As the 1958 - 1959 basketball season started, skeptical observers, recalling the success of last year's Cadets, looked on with disapproving eyes. "Tsk, tsk — too bad you lost Gates, Boothby, and Crowley — there was a team!" But Coach Eckler and his team of seven new recruits to five holdovers went on to show them all.

Yes, Bob Gates has graduated but Dick was here to show the same spirit and fight his older brother had demonstrated. His backboard skill was perhaps even greater and his scoring equal to that of Bob's.

Jay Heise was there with the skill and endurance that made him stand out as a ball-player. Jay, playmaker of the squad, shot few baskets that didn't give with the old swish. Brad Chase's allround adeptness at the game cannot be overlooked. Completing the starting lineup were Doug Brucker and sophomore

Steve Slater who did fine jobs .

Due to wrist injuries, Bill Gates (another of the basketball playing clan) and Jim Hawkins were unable to see much action until the second half.

The remainder of this top notch squad was composed of Fred Haslip, Mark Stoner, Denny Ryan, Bill Hunter, and Terry Hickey — all in all four Seniors, four Juniors, and four Sophomores.

This team seemed not to have a single star but rather many. Games were seldom when two or three players' scoring laurels didn't break into double figures. Perhaps it was this and the remaining factor that the Cadets played as a team that aided them at any rate. Those initial skeptics were soon eating their words and H. C. S. again had a successful season.

This year's varsity was cheered on by six Junior and Senior young ladies with much pep and grace. Chosen by a group of teachers and students early in the fall, they soon were busy learning the cheers and creating a general feeling of high enthusiasm among the students. In October the squad journeyed to Canaseraga for a Cheerleading Clinic where much was gained along the line of improving their school yells.

Composing the squad were Seniors: Justine Hemmerich and Audrie Unterborn; Bonnie Beardsley, Sharon Rowley, Nancy Becker, and Sharon Maggs all Juniors. Audrie and Tina were co-captains with Donna Catlin serving as substitute.

A mascot took the form of five-year old Debby Kelly whose antics often had the crowds "oohing and ahing."

Uniforms consisted of red knee-length box pleated skirts, white turtle-neck sweaters with each girl's name on the collar, and red and white fur balls on the sneakers.

All in all these girls accomplished much through creating enthusiasm at the weekly games, assisting at pep assemblies, and promoting good will between school systems.

With a "Yea" we salute them.

First Row: A. Unterborn, Debby Kelly, mascot; N. Becker. Second Row: T. Hemmerich, B. Beardsley, S. Rowley, S. Maggs.

Jr. Varsity Basketball

Ken Rice as the mainstay of the team and Dick Duthoy's scoring ability helped to lead Hilton to victory. Not forgetting Dave Crowley, Dan Strauss, and Mike Adams rebounding efforts and Gary Clark's shooting ability aided the Cadets.

Though the loss of Steve Slater, Terry Hickey, Bill Gates, and Bill Hunter to Varsity was thought to be a serious handicap, Hilton Central can be proud of its Junior Varsity team.

Jr. Varsity Cheerleaders

The junior varsity cheer squad was equally divided between Sophomores and Freshmen this year. Cheering the J. V.'s into victory were Freshmen Donna McMann, Carol Sue Koering and Judy Collamer and Sophomores Cheryl Markham, Nancy Kuhn, and Karen Hall. Judy Rodgers served as alternate.

Uniforms consisted of smart white corduroy jumpers and red blouses which made them appear quite striking.

Miss Wyant, cheerleading advisor this year, was able to give much advice to these young cheerleaders. Her aid was gratefully appreciated.

We will remember the shouts of —
Junior Varsity, Junior Varsity, go, team, go
Junior Varsity, Junior Varsity, fight, team, fight
Junior Varsity go, Junior Varsity fight
Junior Varsity, Junior Varsity, win tonight.

First Row: McMann, Hall, Collamer, Kuhn, Second Row: Doering, Markham.

A Day

A day at Hilton Central starts with Gail and Steve making a quick trip to their lockers. There they deposit their coats and pick up the books they will need for morning classes.

After homeroom, come classes. Steve seems to be receiving some aid from Gail. Could it be that American History gives him a slight bit of trouble?

A stroll after lunch brings this Senior class couple to the bulletin board where there is invariably news of some coming event. They find today is no exception.

Noon hour is over and it's back to the old grind for Steve. Could he be planning the structure of a gas station or is it a new route to Braddock Heights?

At H.C.S.

H.C.S. offers a variety of courses for its students. Here Gail gives attention to a problem in her Office Practice class.

Lunchtime brings a moment of relaxation to the weary students. On the window can be seen the sign of one of our past graduates.

One day is soon over and it's time to go home. And wasn't Steve the gentleman today?

It's homeward they'll soon travel. One more day at H.C.S. is completed. And an enjoyable one, at that!

It is with grateful appreciation that we list the individuals and businesses that have aided us in financing our yearbook. The seniors wish to thank these sponsors for their generous support of the 1959 Hiltorial.

Thanks are also extended to Mr. Walker our photographer, Mr. Burnett, who aids us in rewriting articles, Mr. Wright and Miss Durrant without whose co-operation this book would never have been possible.

Yearbook Staff

The yearbook staff of the 1959 HILTORTIAL is very grateful to all of those who gave their time and effort to insure the success of this year's HILTORTIAL. We especially want to thank Mrs. Dorothy Crosby, our advisor, who gave her help whenever it was needed.

It is not a simple thing to put out a school yearbook — filled with those things that make a school yearbook memorable. It becomes even more complex when both the staff and advisor are new recruits, having never before tackled such a task. Each year further improvements and additions on the book itself do not lighten the load.

But somehow, through co-operation, work, and time, when the yearbook is finally put to press and all the struggles and problems have been worked out, it is pleasant to look back and say that it was worth while — that each person gave his utmost to make the 1959 HILTORTIAL one that will be remembered in the years to come.

In Appreciation

DEAR MRS. CROSBY,

This will be a surprise to you and one which you most definitely deserve. You, our Hiltorial advisor have given service far beyond the call of duty. This was your initial attempt at putting together a year's events but you have accomplished this feat with grace and modest skill. You have kept the staff in working order by tactful reproach and helpful advice with this book showing the results of your efforts.

In addition, your art classes have not had to suffer from neglect as somehow you always found time for both teaching and the many problems a high school yearbook can bring.

The deadlines, the decisions to be made, the meetings. . . . They are all behind us now and we thank you for making them. Nothing could have been possible without you.

Sincerely,
THE SENIORS

Farewell

The halls of Hilton will no longer ring with the laughter of the Class of 1959. Its doors will be open to us as visitors only. As we walk through Hilton Central for the last time, we will remember the happiness and knowledge we found here. We will remember the faculty, the students, the administration, the clubs, the teams, and ever so much more. We will not forget any of it for it all has helped the growth of our minds as well as our personalities.

We thank you for these wonderful memories, H. C. S. We will miss you.
